

We Will Remember Them

1914 -1918

Bertie Annan

Thomas Bishop

Alec Boucher

William Browne

Henry Chapple

Frank Christy

Cedric Clarke

Harry Cooke

Frank Corbett

James Davis

William Elcock

Samuel Elcock

Wyburn Evans

William Gardiner

George Gill

Richard Harley

James Jones

Joseph Jones

Harry Langford

James Lewis

Henry Lloyd

Charles Lloyd-Acton

Harold Lockett

Wilfred Merchant

Albert Morris

Henry Onions

Thomas Pace

Henry Price

William Price

Ernest Pugh

William Pursehouse

Eaton Rogers

Sidney Sargeant

Thomas Sargeant

Eric Starkey

Edward Teague

Samuel Thomas

Richard Turner

Richard Wainwright

Frederick Wall

Thomas Welsby

Edgar Yates

1939 -1945

Wilfred Cartwright

John Claybrook

Robert Downes

Raymond Piper

Kenneth Rowland

Stanley Wakelam

William Williams

Sidney Winwood

These are the names that have been read out in this parish every Remembrance Sunday for past decades.

The names inscribed on the 'War Shrine' as you turn into Main Street, the Memorial in the church and the Worfield School Memorial. Together with the men off countless other parishes, whose names are being read elsewhere, and the women and men called to serve in more recent conflicts. All are represented in the one big memorial at the top of the Churchyard. The stark image of the suffering Crucified Christ. When one suffers we all suffer.

The prayer for Remembrance Sunday:

Almighty God, Father of all, you call us to make peace and to love and serve our neighbour: Help us to build a kinder, more just world where those of many races may live together in peace, old wounds will be healed, and all the human family may be one, through Christ our Lord. Amen.